WRENCHES AND PLIERS

Tools, drop forgings and screw machine products are manufactured by J. P. Danielson Co., Inc., Jamestown, N. Y. They guarantee all their tools as to material and workmanship. They state that they are careful in selecting their material and labor so as to turn out the tools as perfect as possible, but should any defectives go through they will gladly replace them without charge. They further aver that their experience in manufacturing tools covers a good many years, and that in putting their products on the market, the same are the results of years of study and hard labor, and are tools of quality, endurance and efficiency. For further details, members of the trade are requested to write the above-mentioned manufacturers.—Advertisement.
